

NATIONAL LAW UNIVERSITY, DELHI
CENTRE FOR LAW, JUSTICE AND DEVELOPMENT
CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR STUDENT FELLOW

Centre for Law, Justice and Development (CLJD) invites application from students currently pursuing undergraduate/postgraduate studies in Law at NLUD for the position of Student Fellow for the month of November 2018 (tenure of the student fellow may be renewed based on the performance). Selected students would receive a stipend of Rs.4000/- (Rupees Four Thousand Only) per month.

Student Fellows would be required to participate and contribute to research activities of the Centre including ongoing projects as well as ensure active participation in all CLJD events conducted during this period. Details about the Centre and its work can be found on <http://nludelhi.ac.in/res-cljd.aspx>.

Candidate would be selected on the basis of demonstrable interests in the field of development, justice and legal theory and their ability to commit to participating in the Centre's activities during the period of fellowship.

Interested candidates should send their CV, Statement of Purpose (max 500 words) and a writing sample (published/unpublished works, including projects) to cljd@nludelhi.ac.in on or before 22 October 2018. The subject line of the email should be 'Application for CLJD Student Fellow'. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted by CLJD.

CLJD reserves the right not to fill the position of CLJD Student fellow, if the candidates are not found suitable. From the pool of applications, CLJD may also select Student Associates (unpaid position), depending on the requirements of the centre.
