

LL.M. in Public Law

COURSE STRUCTURE (2023-24)

A. Mandatory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World (Semester I)

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each) :

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: Students are free to choose any six optional papers from the subject which are offered by the University subject to the requirement of minimum number of students per paper.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

OPTIONAL PAPERS

The following papers are being offered to students in:

Semester I (The students may choose any two papers)

- a. Principles of Criminal Law & Contemporary Issues (Semester-I)
- b. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester-I)
- c. International Environmental Law & Policy (Semester-I)
- d. International Human Rights Law (Semester-I)
- e. Marriage, Divorce and Succession Laws under Personal Laws (Semester-I)

Semester II (The students may choose any four papers)

- f. Comparative Law (Semester-II)
- g. Advanced Criminal Procedure (Semester-II)-
- h. Business and Human Rights (Semester-II)
- i. Advanced Evidence Law (Semester-II)
- j. Constitutional Theory and Judicial Process (Semester-II)
- k. International Humanitarian Law (Semester-II)
- l. International Refugee Law (Semester-II)
- m. Constitutional Claims and Contemporary Issues under Personal Laws (Semester-II)
- n. Disability Law and Policy in India: Contemporary Issues and Challenges (Semester-II)

LL.M. in Commercial Law

COURSE STRUCTURE (2023-24)

A. Mandatory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World (Semester I)

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each):

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: Students are free to choose any six optional papers from the subject which are offered by the University subject to the requirement of minimum number of students per paper.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

OPTIONAL PAPERS

The following papers are being offered to students in:

Semester I (The students may choose any two papers)

- a. Regulatory Architecture and Governance (Semester-I)
- b. International Taxation (Semester-I)
- c. Business and Human Rights (Semester-I)
- d. Comparative Patent Law (Semester-I)

Semester II (The students may choose any four papers)

- e. Mergers and Acquisitions (Semester-II)
- f. Commercial Contracts and Business Ethics (Semester-II)
- g. International Intellectual Property Law (Semester-II)
- h. Digital Copyright Law (Semester II)
- i. Advanced Corporate Law (Semester II)
- j. Corporate Insolvency Law and Practice (Semester II)
- k. Advanced Competition Law (Semester II)
- l. International Arbitration Law (Semester-II)
- m. International Intellectual Property Law (Semester II)

LL.M. in Regulatory Governance

COURSE STRUCTURE (2023-24)

A. Mandatory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World (Semester I)

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each):

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: Students are free to choose any six optional papers from the subject which are offered by the University subject to the requirement of minimum number of students per paper.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

OPTIONAL PAPERS

The following papers are being offered to students in:

Semester I

- a. Regulatory Architecture and Governance
- b. Theories and Tools of Regulations, including RIA

Semester II

- a. Market Regulations- Securities Regulations
- b. Utility Regulations- Electricity and Water Regulation
- c. Regulation of Professions- Health Professionals, Lawyers, and Insolvency
- d. Technology & Media Regulations- Technology, Print, and Digital Media